Notes

HUSBAND - Luke Tatum (Continued)

- [1] Note: I cannot prove that Annis was a daughter of this couple; however, a direct descendant of Annis (Tatum) Luker named Shirley Walker Horton has an autosomal DNA match with me at Family Tree DNA at a 5th cousin to remote cousin level. A female of the right age is in the 1800, 1810, and 1820 censuses for Luke Tatum.
- [2] Female born about 1800 is inferred from the 1800, 1810, and 1820 censuses for Luke Tatum and his household.
- [3] Note: I cannot prove that David was a son of this couple, but he was in the 1830 Federal Census near Celia Tatum, widow. A male of approximately the right age is in the 1820 census.
- [4] Note: I cannot prove that Matilda was a daughter; she is alleged to be, according to Internet family trees, undocumented. A female of the right age is in the 1810 and 1820 censuses for Luke Tatum.
- [5] Pack 725 Probate Judge's Office, Anderson County, South Carolina.
- [6] Note: I cannot prove that Matilda was a daughter; she is alleged to be, according to Internet family trees, undocumented. Female of the right age is in the 1810 and 1820 censuses for Luke Tatum.
- [7] Female born about 1805/1810 is inferred from the 1810 and 1820 censuses for Luke Tatum and his household.
- [8] Information is from: <http://www.genealogy.com/ftm/w/a/l/Kevin-Howard-Walters/WEBSITE-0001/UHP-1420.html>
- [9] Female born about 1811/1820 is inferred from 1820 census.
- [10] Note: I cannot prove that Aaron M. was a son; he is alleged to be, according to Internet family trees, undocumented. A male of approximately an age that fits for him was in the 1820 census for Luke Tatum and the 1830 census for Celia Tatum.
- [11] Note: I cannot prove that Daniel was a son; he is alleged to be, according to Internet family trees, undocumented. A male of the right age is in the 1820 census for Luke Tatum and the 1830 census for Celia Tatum.
- [12] Female born about 1816-1820 is inferred from the 1820 and 1830 censuses for Luke and Celia Tatum.
- [13] Male born about 1821/1825 (aged 5-9) is inferred from 1830 census for Celia Tatum.
