Notes

WIFE - Mary "Polly" Tatum (Continued)

The 1850 and 1860 censuses show her as younger, but vary widely -- 1800 in the first one and 1810 in the second.

There are references in family trees for Mary Tatum, who married Sheriff Haynes, that her grandparents were buried near her in Bethlehem Methodist Church cemetery (the church is now Bethel Community Church). The source of the information about burial was Mary's death notice (possibly in the Keowee Courier). Note from C.G.: I could not locate any 1884 copies of this newspaper. Many assume that Mary's parents were buried there, also. There are no surviving Tatum headstones today or a surviving headstone for Mary Tatum Sheriff. The family trees (found on www.Rootsweb.Ancestry.com, WorldConnect Project) say that at one time there seemed to be markings of graves at the foot of the lot for Mary's son Harper Haynes, who was buried there years later. I could not locate anyone to query about this when I did a search.
