boys and 25 'wenches' listed in the Bridewell Royal Hospital records, to go to Virginia" (Archives Division, Library of Virginia, Acc. 26237, re). "These were children 8 to 16 found 'running wild in the streets' of London, 'sleeping under stalls,' and begging, who had been committed to Bridewell, which served as a house of correction. They were mainly homeless waifs, although some probably were petty pilferers." [15] NOTE: Nathaniel would have been older than 16 years. He may not have known his age, or perhaps his age made no difference in his being sent to the American colonies.

May 1619 Charles City Co., VA. Nathaniell Tatam, "aged 20 yeares," was on a muster list for the ship, "The George." [16]

According to research by Ed Tatum and Ronnie Tatum, although there is no surviving record of what Nathaniel experienced in his first years in Virginia, the chances are that he was an indentured servant.

16 Feb 1623/4 Charles City Co., VA. Nathaniel Tatum was living at West and Shirley Hundred. [17] He had survived the Indian massacre of 1622 (also known as the Jamestown Massacre) occurred in the Virginia Colony on Good Friday, March 22, 1622. About 347 people, or almost one-third of the English population of Jamestown, were killed by a coordinated series of surprise attacks of the Powhatan Confederacy under Chief Opechancanough. [18]

22 Jan 1624/5 Charles City Co., VA. Nathaniel Tatum was living at Shirley Hundred. [19]

abt 1626/1632 England. Nathaniel Tatum returned to England and married Ann unknown.

CHILD 3 - Isaac Tatum

Isaac Tatem or Tatum may or may not be a son of Nathaniel Tatum I & Ann unknown.

abt 1636 Location Unknown. Isaac Tatem (Tatum?) was born. Discussion by Jim Murphy, of www.planetmurphy.org: "Isaac Tatem (1636 to >1667) is little understood and may not be a son of Nathaniel Tatum 'I.' Reasons: (1) First name of "Isaac" was never used by Prince George and Surry County Tatums and that is a negative clue. (2) Didn't live in the same area as the main line Tatums. (3) odd use of 'e' when Tatem is spelled. (4). Of the bits and pieces found for Isaac, nothing ties him to the other Tatums, except John Tatem who lived nearby."

[7] Comment by Jim Murphy on www.planetmurphy.org: Burcher's 1637 land lay on the Upper Chippokes Creek, probably close to where it empties into the James River. Upper Chippokes Creek divides today's Prince George and Surry Counties and should not be far from the landmark of (Martins) Brandon and Brandon Road. If Tatum lived on the Prince George side, records would be filed in Charles City County until Prince George County was established from Charles City County in 1703.
